Invitation from the president

As community development professionals, we are all looking for resources and information that we can take back to our communities to make them better places to work live, and play. The South Carolina Community Development Association offers training and networking designed to provide opportunities for success. I encourage you to join or renew your SCCDA membership today.

SCCDA provides many benefits that community development professionals will find as handy tools in their professional toolboxes. Here are just a few of the membership benefits:

- Access to interesting and meaningful training sessions during the annual and fall meetings at the member rate
- Participation in the community development listserv, a members-only information exchange. The listserv is a great way to share information, experience and expertise with your colleagues across the state
- Recognition of quality community development projects and outstanding individuals in the community development field through the annual Award of Excellence and the Hettie Rickett Award

Association meetings provide an ideal setting for developing relationships and contacts that will help make positive impacts on what we do as professionals each day. These networking opportunities afford members the ability to talk to other local, regional and state community development leaders about similar challenges and to collect great ideas that will work in our communities. Most importantly, as an active and engaged member, you can stay current on the latest happenings and best practices in community development from around the state.

We couldn't be more excited about your membership and look forward to extending to you all the great benefits that come along with your involvement in 2015.
